A MISGUIDED REPUBLICAN.

He is Still Joined to His Party Idols.

Ed. APPEAL:—If you will allow me as a straight out Republican, I would like to present some reasons perhaps not already submitted, as to why we prefer to stay by the old party.

For 39 years the Republican party has stood by Nevada, protecting her industries and developing her resources, and it would be the basest ingratitude to desert now. The Republican party has given the country a system of finance, of which we may be proud, her securities are above par and her creditors are more than satisfied with the treatment they have received.

If this financial system is to be changed by the adoption of free coinage, let it be done by its Republican friends and not by its enemies of some other party.

The third party lunacy in this State derived its first and strongest support from the hungry chloriders, grubstakers and common people, rather than from the wealthy and intelligent men who have hitherto controlled our politics, and whom we may still depend on to quietly, but firmly oppose this mutiny.

We should not forget that the Republican party usually rewards those who stand by it, in evidence of this, is the fact that those who fought its battles in the late civil war, are now drawing pensions to an amount nearly three times the value of the yearly product of silver in the U. S. This also shows that the silver question is not quite so important as some people think.

In conclusion we propose to stay by the party of brains and capital in preference to the party of ignorance and poverty.

TRUE BLUE.

[Our Republican correspondent is in error when he says that the Republican party has developed and protected the industries of Nevada. It has protected the industries of the East with a high tariff, and the citizens of Nevada have to pay one-third more for every manufactured article they buy, and pay for it in silver depreciated by the refusal of the Republican party to pass a free coinage bill. The bill only lacked nine votes in the House to pass it, and the Republicans had 80 votes to pass it with.

The system of finance so glowingly mentioned by True Blue, has doubled the bonded debt of the United States, contracted the currency, advanced the rate of interest and made the non-producing bondholders worth colossal fortunes.

No wonder "her creditors" (the bondholders) "are more than satisfied with the treatment they have received."

Now no one cares who brings about free coinage; both parties have had a chance to do it and neglected the opportunity.

It is indeed true that the third party movement derives its support from the "hungry chloriders, grubstakers and common people" of whom True Blue speaks so contemptuously; these men are the bone and sinew of the State, and they will call the roll of their followers on election day at the polls.

By "the wealthy men who have heretofore controlled our politics," and "who are opposing the movement," he probably means D. O. Mills and others of his kind, who drain Nevada of her money to spend it in New York.

The control of State politics is passing away from these wealthy men, and it will be a long way out of their reach after the November election.

About drawing pensions in the civil war. The men who reaped the financial benefits of the war were the gold bug bondholders who stayed at home while the soldiers protected their interests in the field.

The soldiers are paid in greenbacks, but nothing but gold must do the bondholders.

Our correspondent thinks the silver question of not much importance. It really overshadows every other question now before the people.

We may be a party of poverty, but there is not a single man in the silver party of Nevada so ignorant of the questions of the day as is "True Blue," a Republican who is so stupid that he can't see what a dupe and tool his party leaders have made of him.—ED. APPEAL.]

For the latest designs in solid silver ware, go to Frank Golden's.

Too Late.

The free coinage of silver is being reluctantly brought to the front in Indiana, notwithstanding the efforts of party leaders to ignore it. Senator Voorhees, in a speech last week in Vincennes, Ind., recklessly said: "Farmers of Knox county, Grover Cleveland is with you on silver. If you elect him and place before him a free silver bill he will sign it." All the congressmen running for reelection in the South are preaching this doctrine. Query: If silver is not an issue this year, why are candidates repudiating their party platforms and making their campaigns upon the financial issue alone?

The Democrats have discovered that the South wants free silver and now they have begun to represent Cleveland as a free silver angel to keep back the stampede for Weaver. The South however prefers a man who has been always for silver and is running on a silver platform to one who has always been against silver and is running on a gold bug platform.

A TRAMP SAVES A TRAIN.

The cause of the delay to Sundays train was a mishap to the train at tunnel 13 four miles from Truckee. The rear trucks of the car near the engine jumped the track and were off for a mile when a tramp who was stealing a ride pulled the bell cord and stopped the train in time to prevent the whole going over the bank. As it was several of the cars were derailed and some horses for the Reno Fair somewhat skinned up. The train was delayed thirteen hours. A collection was taken up for the tramp by the passengers.

Under Which Flag?

Ed. APPEAL: Those who fight under the silver banner should remain away from the Harrison Republican primaries today.

They will have an opportunity to vote at the Silver Party primaries very soon.

COMMON SENSE.

To Arms! To Arms.

Although the first consignment of pistols, received at Carson & Noteware's, has been nearly exhausted, yet the firm has another lot on the way, and will be prepared to heed all those who desire the wherewith to protect their property.

More Thieving.

Sunday night Mr. Anderson the Section boss at Lake View had a valuable horse stolen. There is no trace of the thief who was last seen riding off on the animal's back, by a Chinaman in Anderson's employ.

The Stolen Property.

The horse stolen a few days ago from George Hawkins has strayed back to Bath's ranch and Ulrick's saddle was found near Never's ranch.

Mr. E. J. Parkinson, the ardent young State developer who invests all the money he makes in Carson in land in California, is up again as a legislative candidate in today's primaries.
